Doggy Hotel

I know what i want to do when i get older but i need some help?

i want to open a doggy daycare but it will be in a hotel building, so it will be a doggy hotel/spa where people can drop their animals off if they go on vacation or something and can't bring their pets. but how would i do this? would i just buy a hotel building? would i have to build it myself? do i need a veterinary license? i am 13 so i would like to know how to get started thank you!

actually i never saw the doggy hotel movie, i had this idea after watching most outrageous pet houses or something like that lol it was on animal planet

What you will really need to run a profitable business.

A degree in business with a minor in marketing.

Just passion and love for animals may not be enough to keep a business profitable.

You'll just hire a vet on the cheap to work for you...
