

File Created by Blogging Rebirth WP Plugin

Grooming Your Pet Dogs

if you're petting a dog then be prepared to give it a lot of care. Your pet dog not just needs physical care but emotional care too. Once you begin to look after the physical wants of your pet, you shall mechanically feel emotionally attached and show care for his emotions too. Talk about physical care of dogs and there is a lot that you are required to do such as regular exercising, feeding, healthcare and grooming. Amidst all these necessities for physical care, grooming is of extreme importance.

Grooming your pet dogs primarily involves bathing and brushing. The frequency of these activities would be generally decided based on the breed of your pet dogs. If you have a dog like Chihuahua with short hair, you would not need to brush it more than twice a week to get rid of loose hair.

However, dogs with long hairs can get their coats matted if not groomed on a daily basis. This kind of dogs require daily brushing. Check the skin of the dog while you are grooming. Their scaps may show signs of sickness. In case you find some signs, take the pet to a vet at the earliest and ensure the the symptoms are treated properly.

It is important to know how to sweep the dog. Always use the brush in the direction in which the coat of the dog is growing. Use grooming combs that matches with the type of coat your dog has. There are specifically designed combs. If you find tangles in the hair, work softly from the fringe of the tangle to untie. The skin around the tummy of your dog is a sensitive area, so while you groom this part ensure that you do it carefully and carefully.

Give your dog a bath regularly although how often relies on the breed of the dog. There are special dog shampoos which can be had simply from a pet supplies store. Bath your dog with such a shampoo in halfhearted water. Remember, you have to bath your dog only after brushing. After drying, take your dog for a small walk.

It is important to clip the nails of your pet dogs. Long nails can result in foot issues. One thing to bear in mind is that it's best to clip the nails of a pet dog when it is young because clipping the nails of a grown up dog can be problematic as it can react.

Regular grooming is an absolute must in case you would like your pooch's coat to be all healthy and shiny. Groom your dog so that he not just looks good but feels good as well.

You can also find this article published on Grooming Your Pet Dogs